We investigated whether cerebral glutamate and glutamate receptors mediate the effect of interoceptive somatic afferents on cardiac vagal afferents in the rat prefrontal cortex. Anesthetized male Wistar rats were implanted with an electrode for recording electrocortical activity and electrodes for recording vagal cardiac afferent activity. After a 30-min stabilization period, the rats were adapted to intermittent hindlimb suspension for 2 h and treated with 2 mM N-methyl-d-aspart f678ea9f9e
